

Call for Papers

What do Arabic manuscripts, John Humphrey, Sir Arthur Currie, Hugh McLennan, Peter Redpath, Ernest Rutherford, and James McGill have in common? They have all been the subject of scholarly articles in Fontanus based on McGill University's many fine collections. Detailed descriptions of the collections may be accessed from the McGill Historical Collections web site: <http://www.mcgill.ca/historicalcollections/>

The editors of Fontanus are currently seeking articles as well as briefer notes and comments, in English or French, for Volume XIII (2011). The deadline for submission is 1 September 2011. Submissions received later will be considered for the following volume.

Fontanus is an annual publication devoted to scholarly research making substantial use of McGill University collections. The term "collections" is interpreted in the broadest sense to include all forms of evidence: books, archives, clay tablets, electronic records, specimens, artifacts, costumes, photographs, films and buildings.

For more information regarding the submission of manuscripts, please see the Guidelines for Authors elsewhere in this issue.
